SECOND GAME WON BY YANKS

Our City Comment & discussion

by THOMAS D. WATSON

Sewers Have Been Considered in Glendale for Ten Years. Now Let's Act!

THE contract which gives Glendale permission to construct a sewer line in the city of Los Angeles to connect with its outfall to the sea was signed last night by Mayor Robinson for Glendale.

This was the final step in the consummation of the contract as the Acting Mayor of Los Angeles, Boyle Workman, signed the contract earlier in the day. For ten years Glendale has discussed the need of a sewer and a connection with the Los Angeles sewer has always been the plan most favored.

WITH the signing of the contract the sewer is assured. All that remains to be done is for the people to cast their vote in favor of a bond issue to provide the necessary funds to pay for the construction.

While we have all confidence that the result of this election will be in favor of the bonds we understand some opposition is being fostered.

It is difficult for us to conceive of any citizen being against this sewer proposition with the knowledge that the very existence of our city depends on it.

NO one can deny the need. As to the remedy two ways are before us, one the voting of the bonds and the building of the sewer immediately, the other alternative to annex and wait for some indefinite time for Los Angeles to build one for us. If it took ten years to get that city to permit us to build one ourselves how long would it take for it to build one for us.

THERE are many districts in Los Angeles at this time that are in no better shape than we. The citizens of the district of Palms, although they annexed to Los Angeles eight years ago, are not only waiting for sewers yet, but in order to receive some benefit from their tax money are applying to the courts for relief.

WE notice an article in today's paper where the promoters of one Glendale subdivision have started the ball to rolling by advertising that sewer laterals would be laid in their tract without cost to the buyers. We are in hopes that others will follow this lead.

Our "Jim" Rhoades Puts Over Big Realty Deal

"Jim" Rhoades, former secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who is now a Glendale realtor and member of the firm of Rhoades & Smith, reports a deal just completed and placed in escrow with the Federal Commercial and Savings bank for the sale of 138 acres belonging to B. E. Stiles of 420 North Louise street, to the DuBain Realty corporation of 618 West Eighth street, Los Angeles, for a consideration well up in six figures. The land lies just north of Mountain street at the head of Campbell, Louise, Maryland and Brand, and is situated between Bellehurst and the tract that is being subdivided by T. W. Watson. E. B. DuBain is president of the purchasing company, which is one of the largest subdividers in Los Angeles county. The surveying of the tract for the laying out of streets and the placing of water and gas mains, will start immediately for it is the intention of the buyers to make it a subdivision of the highest class.

CITY OFFICES CLOSE FRIDAY

At the meeting of the city council held Wednesday night to ratify the sewer contract with Los Angeles, members voted to close city offices Friday, October 12, Columbus day.

OWL DRUG CO. SUCCEEDS SPOHR IN GLENDALE

Another Large Company Chooses Glendale as Site for Store

The Owl Drug Co. this morning announced the purchase of the drug business of Mr. A. G. Spohr, for many years conducted at the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway. This location is conceded to be a pivotal corner of Glendale's business section, and the new owners say it is their intention to presently install a typical Owl store.

Mr. Spohr may be considered one of the pioneer druggists of Glendale, coming to this city less than seven years ago, then a community of seven or eight thousand people. He indulged in a few reminiscences yesterday, recalling the astonishing growth of the population and business life in that short span. A rather unique circumstance is that Mr. Spohr sold his former store in Pasadena to The Owl Drug Co. several years ago, and they now succeed him in Glendale. He will remain here as a resident.

Recognition of Glendale's growth is strikingly illustrated by the Owl's entry here. They have the reputation of being expert judges of business possibilities, and in addition, are always an important factor in civic development of cities where their stores are located.

C. A. Henry, president of the drug concern, and W. M. Berg, general manager, visited Glendale yesterday. Mr. Henry made the pertinent observation that the coming of the Owl Drug store to Glendale, while a recognition of this community's progress, is merely an extension of its facilities and prices to thousands of patrons who have patronized its stores in the so-called metropolitan area only a few miles away.

The Glendale store will be in charge of J. J. Luedke, assisted by Mr. Schirer. Mr. Luedke has been with the company for 15 years; and opened and operated the San Diego store for many years. He has for some time resided in Glendale, and therefore is not a stranger among us. Mr. Luedke stated it was the intention to retain the Spohr staff of employees, with such additions as will naturally be needed to give Owl service.

REALTORS ARRIVE IN SACRAMENTO HOT, TIRED, DUSTY

Marple Wires Progress and Events on the Way

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 11.—The nineteenth annual convention of California Real Estate association opened at the Sacramento Hotel Wednesday night amid a blaze of white lights, a blare of music and the most wonderful display of brotherly feeling ever seen in Golden State. The event was the grand ball given in honor of state president and Mrs. Frazier O. Reed, who led the grand march, followed by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Morrissey. Four hundred attended, several from Glendale.

The caravan from Southern California arrived here Wednesday night at 6 o'clock, tired, dusty, peevish and mighty glad to get here. Was met by Sacramento Realtors' association reception committee, E. J. Williams, chairman, and Mrs. Chris R. Jones, chairman, Ladies' Reception Committee. The Columbia Park Boys' Band assisted.

The jaunt from Fresno, where caravan stopped last night, was uneventful. At noon a stop was made at Stockton, dinner was served by Stockton Realty Board and Lodi Board of Realtors, gathered at County Fair Grounds. Large delegation from north part of state arrived half hour before southerners. Glendale crowd was sore last night. Reservations at the Sacramento were not filled and places at Sequoia taken. Feeling better today. Everybody well.

DAILY PRESS BIG AUDITORIUM FILLS WITH EAGER FANS

Yes, the Daily Press reports the world's series games hot off the bat to eager throngs crowding the big auditorium of the Press building, 333-35 North Brand. And the beauty of it is that we keep always just half an inning ahead of our limping competitor by reason of the unparalleled Associated Press service. You are cordially welcome to join the appreciative throng in the big auditorium every day of the world's series games and get the news ahead of the other fellow.

AUTO CAMPS ARE TO BE CONSIDERED BY CITY COUNCIL

Asset if Controlled by City—Says Reeves, Otherwise Not

One of the important matters which will come before the city council tonight is the hearing on auto camps of which Glendale has two, one on San Fernando road at Riverdale, against which many complaints have been lodged, and another at few blocks north on the same thoroughfare.

In speaking of the matter, City Manager Reeves declares such camps can be made a great asset to the city if operated and controlled by the city, but under no other circumstances. As an example of a successful one he mentioned Pasadena's auto camp at Brookside, and the auto camp of Seattle which has accommodations for 300 and at a pinch can care for 700. Hot and cold water, all toilet facilities, and shower baths are provided. There is a community house for social purposes, and patrons are assessed only 50c a night with the privilege of using the camp for ten nights. Last year returns of $10,000 were realized on it, the cost of maintenance and supervision being but $6000, thus giving a profit of $4000.

When an effort was made to abolish the camp at Pasadena, there was a universal protest from merchants and other business men who objected to be deprived of the business realized from it, particularly the realtors, who made many sales and found it to their interest to send salesmen to the camp to look up prospects.

"You cannot tell," said Mr. Reeves, "how much money a man may have who arrives in a dusty auto. The situation will never be right here until the city establishes a camp of its own under the supervision of police on duty day and night, to see that sanitary conditions are maintained. These camps, in a climate like ours are equivalent to outdoor hotels."

MORE AUTO COLLISIONS, POLICE REPORT

A few collisions were reported yesterday but none very serious. Wayne R. Keefe of 4010 Goodwin avenue, for example, had a mix-up with an unknown car Wednesday night at 6:45 at Brand and Los Feliz. Nobody hurt.

Herbert Raymond Sands of Oak Place, Montrose, driving south on Brand between Broadway and Harvard, swerved to avoid hitting an auto backing out and struck a pedestrian, T. C. Goff, of 330 West Eulalia, who was knocked down but not seriously injured.

MAN PICKED UP IN AUTO ON GENEVA

Another unfortunate, who was discovered at 10 on Wednesday night sitting in his auto on Geneva, near the wash, apparently dead to the world, was brought to police headquarters and given a night's lodging in the city jail. His name was booked on the police blotter as B. F. Emerson, of 434 West Elk. He was pronounced drunk and was to have a hearing before Judge Lowe this morning.

ROBBED AND THROWN OFF FREIGHT CAR

Leonilo Bernal, described as a "transient Mexican" on the police blotter, was brought to the station yesterday suffering apparently from internal injuries. According to his story he had been riding on a freight train and was robbed and thrown off. Captain Loving took him to the county hospital in Los Angeles.

SUN RISES RED AND HAZY SECOND MORNING OF WORLD SERIES GAMES

Though Rain Drops Glittered on the Roof of Giants' Home, Where Today's Game Was Played, Bleacherites Were on Hand

TENSE SPIRIT IS SHOWN BY BOTH TEAMS

Game Opened Promptly at 2 p. m., Eastern Time, Which Is 11 a. m., Glendale Time, With Pen-nock and McQuillan as Opposing Pitchers

This certainly was "home run day" for the world's series teams. Ward started the fireworks, Meusel of the Giants duplicated the performance, then the mighty Ruth countered with two beauties. Frisch just missed one by the umpire calling his drive to the left field bleachers a foul by four inches. Ruth was walked in the seventh by the fearsome Bentley.

The final score was 4 to 2 in favor of the Yanks.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A hazy sun, seemingly red from the exertion, chinned itself over the eastern rim of the Polo grounds today and peered with a weak but willing smile upon the rain glittering home of the Giants, where the second game of the world's series will be played today.

"Fair, partly cloudy" had been the weather man's forecast, in the face of the shower which swept across the Harlem river region after yesterday's classic encounter at the Yankee Stadium.

Two or three early arrivals at the low priced bleachers entrance averred it was cold.

"It sure is," affirmed 14 patrolmen who had been on duty at the gate all night to preserve order—and not a fan in sight.

The tardy sun served, however, to take the chill off the damp, penetrating haze, as the line at the gate gradually lengthened.

For the first time in the history of the years of the world's series baseball, cheap seat seekers were absent from the entrance gates last night.

The first one put in an appearance after sun-up, seating himself on the ever-present soapbox reserved for number one.

The batteries—for the Giants were McQuillan pitching and Snyder catching; for the Yankees Pen-nock was the pitcher and Schang the catcher.

The line-up:
GIANTS: Bancroft, ss. Groh, 3b. Frisch, 2b. Young, rf. E. Meusel, lf. Cunningham, cf. Kelly, 1b. Schang, c. Snyder, p.
YANKS: Witt, cf. Dugan, 3b. Ruth, rf. R. Meusel, lf. Ward, 2b. Schang, c. Scott, ss. McQuillan, p.

Umpires—O'Day at the plate; Nallin on first base; Hart on second base; Evans on third base.

FIRST INNING

Yankee: Witt up. There was a delay until the photographers could be cleared from the field. Strike one. Ball one. Ball two. Frisch tossed out Witt. Dugan up—ball one, ball two, ball three. Dugan walked on four straight balls. Ruth up—ball one, ball two, strike one, ball three. Ruth walked, and the crowd howled. Meusel up—strike one, ball one. Meusel hit into a double play, Bancroft to Frisch to Kelly. No hits, no runs, no errors.

SECOND INNING

Yankees—Pipp up. Ball one. Strike one. Groh threw out Pipp, making a nice play of Pipp's foul grounder. Ward up. Foul strike one. Foul strike two. Ball one. Ward hit a home run into the upper left field stand. Schang up. Schang flied out to Snyder. Scott up. Strike one. Scott flied out to Meusel. One run, one hit, no errors.

THIRD INNING

Yankees—Pennock up. Ball one. Strike one. Frisch tossed out Pennock. Witt up. Strike one. Frisch got Witt also at first. Dugan up. Dugan flied out to Meusel. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING

Yankees—Ruth up. Ball one. Strike one. Ball two. Ruth got a home run over the right field stand. Meusel up. Foul strike one. Strike two. Meusel fanned. Pipp up. Pipp singled into right. Ward up. Ball one. Strike one. Ball two. Foul strike two. Ward popped to Kelly. Schang up. Schang shot a hot single into right, Pipp going to third. Young juggled the ball and got an error on the play. Scott up. Ball one. Ball two. Strike one. Pipp scored on Scott's single to center, Schang going to second. McQuillan was knocked out of the box at this stage and Bentley went in the box. Pennock was hit by a pitched ball. He fell to the ground and his face was contorted with pain and the players of both clubs gathered around him. The crowd cheered when he rose to his feet and limped to first. The bases were filled. Witt up. Strike one. Ball one. Witt flied out to Cunningham. Two runs, four hits, one error.

FIFTH INNING

Yankees—Dugan up. Ball one. Ball two. Strike one. Strike two. Foul. Bancroft got Dugan at first. Ruth up. Foul strike one. Ball one. Foul strike two. Ball two. Foul strike three. Ball three. Ruth walked.

PRESS FIRST WITH EXTRA, ALWAYS HALF INNING AHEAD

The Daily Press again demonstrated its superiority in the news field by getting out an extra with a complete account of the first world's series game, event by event, fully 15 minutes ahead of its competitor. More than this, the Daily Press returns were at all times a full half inning ahead of the other fellow. Test this out hereafter and see if it is not true. This demonstrates the wonderful superiority of the Associated Press service over all others. The Daily Press gives the news when it is news.

KIWANIS AND WIVES GUESTS OF L. A. KIWANIS

Were Entertained by Talk From Milton Sills; Also Music

About 75 Glendalians, members of the local Kiwanis club and their wives, responded to the invitation of the Los Angeles Kiwanis club, to be guests at its first luncheon Wednesday noon at the Baltimore, where it will meet regularly hereafter. All the Kiwanis clubs of Southern California were represented, covers being laid for 600 or more. The Glendale list included President A. L. Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson, First Vice President Herman Nelson and Mrs. Nelson, Second Vice President Dr. T. C. Young and Mrs. Young, Secretary D. H. Webb and Mrs. Webb, district directors Fred and Mrs. Deal, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Perry, Dr. Jack Anderson and Ray Bentley and Mrs. Bentley.

During the serving the Los Angeles Kiwanis orchestra entertained, and following the luncheon there were vocal solos and an address by Milton Sills on "The Human Side of the Motion Picture Industry."

Guests were shown through the hotel from garret to cellar under the guidance of Kiwanis committees, and the function was thoroughly enjoyed by all participants.

tying the score. Cunningham up. Strike one. Foul strike two. Foul. Cunningham flied out to Ruth. Kelly up. Kelly singled into right field. Snyder up. Snyder set up a high fly to Ward. One run, two hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING

Frisch singled into left. Groh going to third. Young up. Ball one. Strike one. Groh scored when Young singled into left. Frisch halted at second. Meusel up. Meusel fouled Young. Scott to Ward. Frisch went to third. The Yankees claimed that Young interfered with Ward in making a double play. Umpire Hart would not allow the claim. There was a long argument at second base. Cunningham up. Cunningham hit into a double play Scott to Ward to Pipp. One run, three hits, no errors. The crowd jeered Young as he walked into right field.

SEVENTH INNING
Yankees—Witt up. Ball one. Ball two. Ball three. Strike one. Strike two. Bentley took Witt's napper and tossed him out. Dugan up. Bentley also threw out Dugan. Ruth up. Ball one. Strike one. Ball two. Ball three. Ruth walked.

BRIEF MEETING OF COUNCIL RATIFIES SEWER CONTRACT

Amendment Is Discussed Thoroughly Before Action Taken

All members of the city council met for a short session Wednesday night and duly ratified the amended contract with the city council of Los Angeles which grants Glendale a right of way for the construction of a trunk line sewer which will connect with the Los Angeles outfall. There was some discussion of the amended section and to make sure that the interpretation put upon it by Glendale councilmen was the same as that of the Los Angeles officials, City Attorney Morrow called by phone the city attorney of Los Angeles and secured his interpretation of the section. The amended contract was then duly signed, as stated.

No. 9 was the section amended which now reads: "That in consideration of this agreement, said party of the second part does hereby give and grant to said party of the first part the right to lay and construct any and all main sewers and lateral sewers in, under and along any and all of the streets of the said party of the second part, the city of Glendale, necessary to connect any and all territory which is now or may hereafter be included within the boundaries of the party of the first part, the city of Los Angeles, and such other territory outside of the present boundaries of the party of the first part that may desire to construct main sewers or laterals to said sewers so to be constructed under the terms of this agreement."

Clerk Van Wie informed the Daily Press at 11 this morning that the amended contract had been signed by Acting Mayor Boyle Workman of Los Angeles.

EXCHANGE CLUB'S WEDNESDAY LUNCHEON

Hears Rev. Mosely, Boy Scouts and Other Speakers

The campaign for new members which is being inaugurated by the Glendale Exchange club, under the captains of two teams—George Thomas and Fred Hill, had a good send-off in the fine program provided for the 35 members and guests at the Wednesday luncheon. It began with a radio program including baseball news provided by Dr. Appleton, and was continued in an exceedingly interesting talk of missionary work in Tibet by Rev. Thomas Mosely, who has recently returned to the United States after seven years in Tibet, and is going back the coming spring.

When asked by "Slim" Johnson what, in his opinion, would be the salvation of China, Mr. Mosely said: "If the American government would take it over for a period of five years and administer it for the people and give them justice, it would be the thing and the only thing that would put the empire of China on its feet. If Japan gets a chance, it will make the Chinese its vassals. It treats them in their own country like dogs. The British empire could not do it because it is not popular enough there. At present there is no hope for the Chinese empire."

Francis J. W. Henry, a representative of the Boy Scout council, was a guest and brought five representative scouts, Arthur Barton, Kenneth Solomon, and Robert Eastman from Troop 2; Glen Cunningham and Charles Bossmer, of Troop 3. The boys, who, with Mr. Henry attended the Older Scout council at Santa Barbara, were called upon and made one-minute speeches.

President Bird of the San Mateo Exchange club was a guest and presented greetings from his organization and from the state president, Louis O'Neill. Mr. Waterman, another guest, gave greetings.

G. C. McConnell was declared winner of the attendance prize and told to wait for it until next week as it was being made up.

At the suggestion of "Slim" Johnston the concert by the Community Service band will be postponed until November 9 to 11.

Captain George Thomas of the membership team reported his lieutenant as Messrs. Appleton, Bell, Carlock, Jessup, Kimlin, Howarth, Duncan and Butler. Captain Hill's list included Drs. Belyea, Harrower, Boyer and Noelle, Messrs. Anspach, Clay, Hoyt, Jensen, Johnson, May, Waring, Elwood and Gordon. They were urged to get busy right away.

Dr. Harrower told of his entertainment as a guest of the Oakland Exchange club and of the practice inaugurated there by the Oakland chamber of commerce, of having a quarterly meeting of all of the four business organizations of the city.

Rotarians, Lions, Exchange and Kiwanians, each taking its turn as host. On his motion the club voted to have its secretary propose to Secretary Sanders of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, that the same thing be started here.

Dr. Harrower's work in promoting the excellent pavement planned for Sycamore Canyon road came in for favorable comment and "Slim" Johnston spoke approvingly of the 5-inch pavement as opposed to the 3-inch as being economy when the life of the roadway is taken into account and he urged the starting of a movement for heavier pavements.

"ARTFUL DODGER" FINED BY JUDGE LOWE
E. V. Lockner, who has been trying to evade a summons to appear before Judge Lowe to answer to a charge of speeding, was discovered by a Glendale police officer yesterday and taken before Judge Lowe, who imposed a fine of $40 or 20 days in the county jail. Not having the $40 he went to jail. The judge declares he is going to make examples of all such artful dodgers that he can get hold of.

GOOD HOMES WEEK REMINDS OF THE LONG AGO

By Miss Buckminster, Advertising Manager of Pendroy's

When one says "Good Homes Week" it brings to my mind four big events of every year when we were youngsters, some of us on the old farm, and others in the smaller cities. Of course we have the same days to celebrate in these modern times, but it doesn't seem just the same as in the old environment.

The first I will mention of these four epochal days is Halloween, when we are gathered around the big fire at an old-time house party, with apple cider, nuts, fruits and candy galore. And we played all sorts of "funny" games, charades, masquerades and the like with other pleasures too numerous to mention.

Next came Thanksgiving day, with its family gathering around the groaning table to give thanks for the many blessings of the past year and partake of the delicious viands before them.

Then came the happiest time of the year, Christmas, when each member of the family tried to make every other one happy with a present of some kind.

Following this was the glad New Year, when we all made a fresh

DR. W. F. McCaleb TO SPEAK IN L. A. SUNDAY EVENING

Dr. Walter F. McCaleb, president of the San Fernando Valley bank, will be heard at the Los Angeles Forum, which meets in Music-Art hall, 233 So. Broadway, next Sunday evening at 7:45. Dr. McCaleb is to speak on "Labor in Banking," and as he has come to the coast for the express purpose of instituting a new bank here soon, in Los Angeles, to be sponsored by the laboring men of the city, his theme will certainly be of interest to large numbers of people. Dr. McCaleb has devoted himself to the subject of banking in the interest of labor during recent years. He was the one who established the Engineer's bank in Cleveland, which was the pioneer bank of this sort in America. He also assisted in setting up a federation bank in New York City, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' bank in New York, and other banks of a similar character in St. Louis, Minneapolis and Birmingham. So Dr. McCaleb comes as an authority upon this phase of banking.

Following the address, as usual, there will be questions from the audience. The musical program Sunday night will be furnished by Miss Carolyn Weekes Helms, teacher of violin, of Barker School of Music. Everybody is admitted without any fee, and we especially invite to this meeting all laboring people of the city.

start and resolved to be better and make each other happier.

We should all strive to make our home more beautiful and comfortable. I know the daughter of the house will feel more like entertaining her young friends at Halloween if she has a nice comfortable parlor to receive them in. And on Thanksgiving day, when mother and dad want all the family home to eat turkey and pumpkin pie, the dining room must be spic and span.

And how much pleasanter at Christmas and New Years, when all is laughter, fun and glorious good times, to have every room in the house charmingly set off with furniture that blends into charming effects.

I know now is the time to give thought to all of the many things we need to make the homes more beautiful. Don't wait until the last minute, but make up your minds at once. Don't delay and then be dissatisfied and disappointed. Don't wait until the rush of the holidays, when your time is to be given in so many other directions. There is, maybe, a new rug you need for that living room or a new overstuffed suite that you have often planned on getting before Christmas; a new dining suite or set of china for Thanksgiving, or that new floor lamp or chair that daughter asked you for just before her party on Halloween, or the new chair that you promised mother or dad last year that you have forgotten to get.

All of these little things don't have to be elaborate or expensive, but should be in harmony with your surroundings.

Pendroy's has started a club payment plan which the salesmen will be glad to explain to you if you will call in any time this week, which we are sure will interest you in making purchases for any of these events.

Call at our store, visit our large third floor and see the many new things we have in furniture, rugs, lamps, draperies and hosts of other things to make the home more beautiful.

WHY NOT KNOW SOME OF OUR OWN CALIFORNIA TREES?

In spite of fake advertising on the Atlantic coast of "native California Dates," in spite of the long-time experiments with date-bearing palms from Tulare south to Imperial, and of ornamental palms and palmettos in gardens all over the state, we are bound to acknowledge that our one native palm is the Desert Palm, the "Fan Palm," Neowashingtonia filifera, or Washingtonia Palm. It is a beautiful hardy thing, its fruit is eaten by Indians (and who has a better right to the native fruits?) and it is said that generations ago the Indians of Palm valley thatched their huts with the leaves. For most of us, however, it is an ornamental tree, seen where it is native in the canyons opening into the Colorado Desert of the southeastern part of the state—Palm Canyon, Lukens Canyon, "Thousand Palms Canyon," etc. Here it reaches a height of from 20 to 75 feet. Under cultivation, note the two great tall fan palms on San Pedro street in Los Angeles that must be 100 feet high and are said to have been planted by the fathers two hundred years ago. There is no need for a description of this, our one palm with its platted fans of circular leaves, its thorn-edged leaf stems, its dead-drooping-leaf-clothed trunks. "Like a dirty apron tied over a silk gown," as some one aptly said. But every one who can take the time should certainly manage a trip to Palm Canyon to see them in their native habitat.

AMERICAN LEGION BOYS TO VOTE ON PROPERTY SALE

Big Meeting Tomorrow
Night to Ratify
Bargain

Glendale, Calif., Oct. 9, 1923.
Dear Comrade:

Do you remember the many times that you were on your way but did not know where you were going? Different with us now, as we are banded together in Glendale Post 127. We are going, and our destination is financial success—a success so necessary to make useful and attractive any great organization. This was made possible when the big-hearted citizens of Glendale, anxious to do something for you, sold to your Post, for $100, and without reservations, a beautiful foothill property worth many times that amount. Today we are offered $20,000, and your Trustees have accepted $500, which secures an option on the same for 60 days—subject to your approval. After your approval and upon exercise of the option—your Post will receive $5000 cash; $5000 on or before one year; $5000 on or before two years; $5000 on or before three years; interest at 7 per cent. Your vote is necessary on the proposition and same will be taken at the regular meeting of the Post Friday evening at the Post club rooms. It's an open meeting, so bring the family and friends. Meeting convened at 7:30 p. m. sharp.

The above will be the only order of business and after adjournment we shall burn up Broadway on our way to Eagle Rock to the Women's Club House where we have accepted an invitation to attend, en masse, an entertainment under the auspices of Eagle Rock Post. Let's go! Glendale has the pep!

Service to our community is a chief principle of the American Legion. Along this line we are working vigorously, looking forward to the promotion of a Civic Auditorium and various athletic activities, both of which Glendale is very much in need. Don't miss the Post meetings and forfeit the enthusiasm that these activities give.

October 15 to 19, the dates of

W. F. TRICE AND PARTNER, MRS. HELLWIG, MARRY

The well known merchant, W. F. Trice of the Trice Furniture company, on West Broadway, this city, and his associate in the business, Mrs. Gertrude Hellwig, have been figuring in a romance which culminated in a wedding that took place Tuesday evening at the First Methodist church of this city, Rev. Harry Rasmus, Jr., officiating.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Rogers and following the ceremony the bridal party enjoyed a dinner at the Egyptian Village cafe. Mr. and Mrs. Trice are now at home to their friends at 327 Fairview avenue.

our national convention at San Francisco. It may be some time before another national convention is so close at hand and you should think twice before passing the opportunity. It is there you will realize the immensity and solidarity of the American Legion. Round trip fares by rail or water, at the price of one way, but only if you procure identification certificates from Comrade Crocker or from the Commander. Auxiliary and 40-8 Conventions at the same time. Let us go!

Keep constantly before you the annual banquet and roll call on October 26 at Tuesday Afternoon club. A card on this is being mailed to you today. You'll be sorry if you miss it.

How about those new members? Bring them in. Work your territory and report. Sell the Legion if you can. In any case get every name you can of all members of other Posts, backsliders or those still A. W. O. L. and give them to Comrade Sizer, Per. Adj. Above all and far from the least is the fact that your Post needs your face at the regular meetings. We have been having, and are going to have, good entertainment and good speakers. But it is not right that these busy people should come to entertain and talk with us that we show our interest with such small regard. Let's turn out. Don't let "George" do it all nor reap all the benefits.

Remember Friday evening, 7:30 sharp—Open Meeting.

October 15 to 19—National convention.

October 26—Annual banquet and roll call, 7 p. m. sharp.

FRATERNALLY yours,
CHALMER D. DAY, Sr.,
Commander.

Events of Interest to Glendale and Its People

Mrs. Ruby Smart of 110 Olive street, president of the Glendale W. C. T. U., is confined to her home on account of illness.

Mrs. J. L. McOmber of 1530 East Broadway is expecting her sister, Mrs. F. P. Van Hook, to arrive Sunday from San Francisco for a visit here.

Mrs. Mabel Judd of 600 East Chestnut street is expecting the arrival today of her brother, Homer Selby, who is driving to the coast from New York city.

Mrs. Mebel Tight, realtor, is moving into a new office which she has established on acreage she owns at North Glendale avenue and Doran, and will soon be in the business harness again.

Virginia Preston, daughter of H. G. Preston of 335 West Dryden street, who was operated on Tuesday morning at the Glendale Research hospital for tonsils and adenoids, is doing nicely and is now at home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Harris of 1144 North Brand boulevard will leave by automobile Saturday for San Francisco, where they will attend the national convention of the American Legion. They expect to be gone about a week.

Mrs. M. Furnas of Strathmore, near Bakersfield, has returned to her home after having been the guest for the greater part of the summer of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Head of 308 East Lomita. Mrs. Furnas also visited her son at Elvera and another sister at Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Weyer of 1120 East Chestnut street have as their house guests Mrs. Weyer's cousin, Miss Grady of Chicago. Miss Grady, who was accompanied west by Miss Eckert of Chicago, visited points of interest in the north before coming to Glendale. She is very much delighted with this city.

ELKS PLANNING GREAT THINGS FOR ANNUAL PICNIC

Additional interest will be added to the attractions already planned for the Glendale Elks' annual picnic at Happyland Park on Sunday, October 14, by the fact that the committee has purchased some very attractive prizes to be awarded for winners of the various contests, races and games that will be staged. Members and their families may assemble at the park any time after 10 a. m. and remain as late as they desire. The orchestra will be on hand at 1 p. m. to furnish music for dancing. Everything has been arranged for to make this a most pleasant day.

Each family is to bring its own lunch. The lodge will furnish all the ice cream, sodas, etc., that may be wished for. The general committee on arrangements includes James A. Apfel, chairman; Dan Kelly, Wm. Hunter, James F. McBryde, C. M. Burke, Irving H. Oliver, J. E. Wimmer, John Roman and Will Bode. The committee on refreshments includes John Roman, chairman; W. W. Dutton, R. E. Sutton, W. M. Khodigian, Clarence O. Smith, Harry Wilson, J. A. Bullis, J. W. Headlee, Norman L. Roberts, Kenneth Whaley, Jack W. West, Julius Moniot, H. D. Charlton, Ben T. Durham, Charles D. Shatuck and H. E. Wilson.

Although the eleventh anniversary of the Glendale lodge falls on October 14, it will be celebrated at the regular meeting to be held on Monday, October 15. This has been specially designated as "Fillmore night" and invitations have been sent to all of the present and past Fillmore members. The speaker for the evening will be Rex Goodcell. A special entertainment will be put on by professional actors following the regular lodge meeting. Special "eats" will also be a feature of the evening.

COMMUNITY BAND ORGANIZES FOR BUSINESS

The community band at its regular rehearsal last night organized its membership into a business organization, electing the following officers in addition to the director, Adolph Le Bourgeois: Manager, A. C. Holcomb, assistant manager, J. B. Aageson; secretary-treasurer, F. C. Stroner; librarian, F. B. Rickseker; property custodian, W. Paul Elliot. The idea in the minds of the members of the band is to have representatives from their own membership that would be responsible for the general conduct of the band.

MRS. KAEDING TO LEAVE FRIDAY FOR SAN FRANCISCO

To Attend Convention of Legion and Its Auxiliaries

Mrs. Margaret Kaeding of this city is leaving Friday morning for the national convention of the American Legion and its auxiliaries to be held in San Francisco and is taking with her a friend from Hollister, Cal., who has been her house guest and who has been ill. She will travel slowly and expects to reach her destination, San Francisco, Saturday night. The convention will open Monday with state headquarters in the St. Francis hotel. As California is allowed only 11 auxiliary delegates, Mrs. Kaeding considers it a great honor to be sent to San Francisco.

Mrs. Kaeding has also arranged for the transportation to the convention of a disabled veteran for whom she was able to do a service last summer and who presented himself a few days ago with a gift he had made for her while confined to his bed waiting for recovery from an amputated leg. It is a beautiful handbag of silver and navy blue beads, with which she is greatly delighted and which she will carry on this journey in the hope that she can help him to dispose of a stock of bags he has on hand, as well as secure orders for others. He is striving to accumulate $125 with which to purchase an artificial leg. He is a fine cook and if equipped with a new leg would be able to command a good job. His operation was the result of mustard gas burns received in the World War.

Mrs. Kaeding states that California has a larger quota of disabled veterans than any other state in the union because our favorable climate brings them here. She is very much pleased over the news printed this morning that U. S. Senator Oddie, who has been chairman of a committee to investigate and recommend sites for tuberculosis hospitals, has named San Fernando for one. This, she thinks, will be a fine location easily reached from all parts of Southern California.

P-T. A. COURTESY CHAIRMAN MEET

Courtesy chairman from the various Parent-Teacher associations of Glendale met at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms with Mrs. A. J. Grant, courtesy chairman of the Glendale Federation of P-T. A. to make preliminary plans for the annual teachers' welcome. This will be held on October 19 at 8 p. m. in the girls' gymnasium of the high school.

The presidents of the various P-T. A. associations will form a receiving line. There will be a program given, which will be announced later. There will be a refreshment table for the high school teachers and parents. The other schools will combine and there will be one table for the two intermediate schools, Cerritos and Magnolia, Broadway and Acacia, Colorado and Pacific, Doran and Columbus, Central and Grand View.

BARBECUE SUPPER FOR POLICE AND FIREMEN

From 8 p. m. until midnight, the members of the Glendale Police and Firemen's Relief association will enjoy a barbecue supper to be served tonight at fire station No. 1 at 311 East Broadway. Members of the city council and City Manager Revere are to be the special guests of the evening. Some unique stunts have been planned by way of entertainment.

OLGA STEEB AND MISS MIDDAGH AT CLUB CONCERT

For the first concert of the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, to take place at the club auditorium at 2:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon, October 12, Mrs. Warren Roberts, curator, has secured two celebrated artists—Olga Steeb, pianiste, and Florence Middagh, contralto, who will present a program of rare excellence. All members of the Tuesday Afternoon club are invited to attend the concert. This will be followed by a short business meeting and a social hour.

Both of these prominent artists are known to Glendale music lovers through previous concerts in this community, and the splendid impression they have created on each appearance makes certain that tomorrow's concert will attract a capacity audience.

The rise of Olga Steeb to the zenith of fame within the short period of a few years, has been one of the wonders of the musical world. From her early girlhood she has been marked by critics of the country as an artist of unmistakable genius, and even the great Paderewski predicted when she was but a child that she would some day rank among the greatest of pianists.

But even the most sanguine prophecies for this extraordinary genius have been surpassed by the meteoric swiftness with which she has risen to the pinnacle of pianistic triumphs.

A worthy associate of Miss Steeb is Florence Middagh whose exceptional attainments as a contralto have won for her the highest praise of music critics in all parts of the country. The unusually rich, pure quality of her tones has been the subject of enthusiastic comment wherever she has sung, and her appearance tomorrow afternoon with Olga Steeb assures all who attend a musical treat of the greatest delight.

MUSIC CLUB DECIDES ON CHORAL SECTION
Glendale Music club board of directors met Wednesday night at the high school, with Mrs. Mattison B. Jones presiding, and decided on the establishment of a choral section of the club. This section will be open to club members only and will have as its director John Smallman. Mr. Smallman is considered one of the foremost oratorio directors on the coast and is conductor of the Los Angeles Oratorio association.

For the convenience of those who have not as yet secured their season tickets for the Glendale Music club concerts, officers of the association will be on hand early at the opening concert of the season on Friday night, October 12, at the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium, at which Clarence Whitehill, famous baritone, is to be the soloist.

SEAMSTRESSES TO MEET MONDAY
Those interested in sewing for the parcel post booth of the Tuesday Afternoon club society circus will meet on Monday afternoon, October 15, at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. H. Verity. This booth is to be in charge of the parliamentary law section, of which Mrs. C. A. Brandstater is curator.

The first regular meeting of the section will be held in the palm court of the clubhouse on the afternoon of October 22 at 2 o'clock. All club members interested in parliamentary law are invited to be present.

LEGION FOOD SALE SATURDAY
Mrs. Nellie Snow Hyer and Mrs. James McBryde will have charge of food sale to be given by the American Legion Auxiliary on Saturday at 643 East Broadway.

The regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday night when several new members will be initiated.

MRS. ROSENBERG TO BE HOSTESS
Mrs. Mae Rosenberg of 462 Riverside drive will be hostess at her home on Friday afternoon at a radio tea to be given for the benefit of the Pacific avenue Parent-Teacher association.

CHAPTER L, P. E. O., PLANS B. I. L. PARTY FOR OCTOBER 20

The meeting of the members of chapter L, P. E. O., on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. M. Hunt proved to be a most interesting session with "The Original Americans" as the subject for the afternoon's program, which was in charge of Mrs. H. E. Bartlett. Plans were made for the B. I. L. party on October 20. The husbands of members will be entertained at that time at dinner at the Egyptian Village cafe. Later they will adjourn to the home of Mrs. Roberts for a social evening.

The program for the afternoon included Indian songs and dirges by Miss Isabel Isgrig; reading of an article on "The American Indians" by Mrs. Pearce; paper on "Indian Legends" by Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward; piano selections of Indian music by Mrs. Van Orman of Los Angeles; address on "The Original Americans" by Miss Ida Mae Adams, who made a plea that the American Indians be made citizens and be able to enjoy the privileges of such.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. P. E. Maxwell, Miss Ruth Byram, Mrs. Helen Bott and Mrs. Letitia Lusby.

TRAVEL SECTION OF T. A. CLUB HAS MEETING

Interest was manifest by the number of club members who attended the first meeting of the travel section of the Tuesday Afternoon club on Wednesday morning, there being twenty present. This is one of the new sections of the club with Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker as curator.

Miss Eleanor Smith was the speaker at the meeting, giving a very interesting account of a trip around the world. She and party of friends are planning a trip to the Mediterranean sometime in January. Anyone interested may secure details from the curator.

Those present at Wednesday's meeting included Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Franklin Webb, Mrs. Layton, Mrs. C. N. Turck, Mrs. F. M. Wicks, Mrs. Mabel Rudy, Mrs. W. H. Bailey, Mrs. Lusby, Mrs. Donald E. Baxter, Mrs. E. A. Bayley, Mrs. W. E. Sellick, Mrs. R. E. Chase, Mrs. C. W. Houston, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. W. W. McElroy, Mrs. J. C. Danford, Mrs. Ocker and Mrs. Clem C. Tucker. The next meeting will be on October 24 at 10:30 a. m. at the clubhouse.

GLENDALE HAS BIGGEST DELEGATION
The honors by having the largest delegation present at the luncheon given Wednesday noon at the Ambassador hotel by the Wa-Wan club of Los Angeles to the music clubs of this district. There were fourteen present from Glendale, including delegates from the Glendale Music club, music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, Junior auxiliary of Glendale Music club, high school orchestra, girls' glee club, boys' glee club and the Glendale Madrigal club.

According to Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, the audience of between 400 and 500 people virtually "went wild" over the young people from Glendale and particularly the fact that their organizations had delegated them to the luncheon and voted to pay their expenses.

PARTY RETURNING FROM HUNTING TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. W. F. B. Gurnee and daughter Laverne of 1234 Orange Grove avenue, Dr. and Mrs. Trumphour and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Springer of Los Angeles, returned Monday from a three days' hunting trip near Little Rock, about nineteen miles from Palmdale, where they were guests of Mr. Gurnee's brother-in-law, W. A. Ard.

One of the members of the party shot a deer during the trip. On the return from Palmdale little Laverne Gurnee had the pleasure of seeing snow for the first time.

MRS. KINCH ENTERTAINS CLUB
Mrs. S. C. Kinch of 328 North Brand boulevard entertained the members of the N. N. Club at luncheon at her home on Wednesday. Those present were Mrs. James McLaughlin of Burbank, Mrs. John Cole, Mrs. Maeger, Mrs. Jack Hosley, Mrs. John Rondou, Mrs. Shelby Smith, Mrs. F. E. Benson, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Kinch of Glendale. Mrs. Cole will be hostess at the next meeting of the club to be held at the Egyptian Village Cafe.

RESERVATIONS CLOSE FRIDAY FOR CLUB LUNCH
Reservations will close on Friday afternoon for the regular luncheon meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club to be held on October 16. Mrs. Lorbeer, vice-president of the first district, is to be one of the luncheon speakers.

Mrs. A. Barton. The luncheon will be at 12:30 o'clock. The program for the afternoon will be given by the Philharmonic trio, which includes Jules Lepski, violin; Earl Bright, cello, and Alfred Kastner, harp.

TREND OF FASHION

By HELEN MERRILL EMERY

Fur Trims Youthful Coats

As in older fashions, fur plays a conspicuous part in the modes for children. But it is always fur that is suitable to the years of the small wearer. Squirrel, beaver and lapin trim coats of soft toned wool and velvet.

An extremely attractive model is illustrated. It is made of sapphire blue velvet with trimmings of grey lapin.

LLOYD WILSON TO ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilson of this city are entertaining Saturday night with a dinner at the Biltmore at which covers will be laid for twelve, the guest list including Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pendroy, Captain and Mrs. T. D. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burton of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Stokes A. Bennett of Los Angeles. The color motif will be yellow, the table being centered with a large basket of yellow chrysanthemums, the theme being repeated in the place cards. The dinner will be followed by an evening of dancing in the Biltmore ballroom.

COLUMBUS DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Columbus Day is to be very fittingly celebrated by Glendale Council of Knights of Columbus and an invitation has been extended to the people of Glendale to attend the program to be given at 8 o'clock on Friday night, October 12, at the clubhouse, 330 East Lomita avenue.

There will be an address on "The Life of Columbus" and "The Effect of His Discovery on the World" by one of the most prominent orators of Southern California. After the address the Knights of Columbus will enjoy an informal dancing party. There will be good music.

SCIOIS CIRCUS TICKETS ARE SELLING FAST
Sales of tickets, 5 to a book, which will admit the holders to the Sciois circus, to be held October 23 to 27 are getting lively, particularly at the city hall where a lot of boosters are spreading the glad news among all corners.

Meanwhile the Glendale Pyramid will meet as usual Friday night at 201-A West Broadway and all members are expected to come out and help in the making of plans for the big event. Richard J. Kinley, scribe, who is working hard for the circus, and Harry M. Bennett, the new toparch, will be on duty.

PHYSICIANS' CLUB MEETS TONIGHT
The first fall meeting of the Glendale Physicians' club will be held this evening in Room 38 at Glendale high school at which time the president, Dr. F. M. Rossiter, will present Dr. Elliot Alden, a surgeon of Los Angeles, who will be the speaker of the evening. All members and physicians in Glendale, Eagle Rock and Burbank are urged to be present.

Lewis M. Emerick and family of Mt. Washington, Pittsburgh, Pa., arrived in Glendale this morning and will make their home in this city. They are now staying with Mrs. Emerick's sister, Mrs. John Miller of 900-B South Glendale avenue.

A.W. SCUDDERS ARE HOME FROM LONG TRIP

Attend G. A. R. Convention, Then Visit Ohio Relatives

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Scudder of 320 West Harvard street returned this morning from a six weeks' tour of the east during which they visited friends and relatives and also attended the National G. A. R. encampment at Milwaukee, to which Mr. Scudder was a delegate from the Division of California and Nevada. The encampment was held the week of September 2 and although the delegates all had a very enjoyable time the hospitality shown did not compare with that at the encampment at St. Louis last year, according to Mr. Scudder. Next year the encampment will be at Boston.

The train on which Mr. Scudder and wife went east was made up of thirteen coaches of delegates and members from the west. This was followed up the next day by a train from Pasadena. The weather at Milwaukee was very rainy and foggy. After leaving the city the Scudders went to Chicago, Cleveland and other cities. They also visited their former home in Akron, Ohio. He found conditions there much improved over what they were two years ago. He says "the general health of the people seems to be much better. There is considerable building activity at Akron and things seem to be prosperous. I was not able to visit all my friends, but they helped out considerably by having social gatherings so that I could meet a number of them at one time."

"Our return trip was slow on account of the floods at Washita and Red River. The waters had washed out underneath the tracks and the cars rocked considerably, making progress very slow. We lost almost ten hours time. Mrs. Scudder stood the trip very well. We are expecting our son, O. E. Scudder, to come to California sometime next summer."

READING CIRCLE COMMENDS MRS. C. H. TOLL'S VIEWS

At the regular meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle, held at the library on Wednesday with Mrs. H. V. Henry, chairman, presiding, this organization went on record as approving the stand taken by Mrs. Charles H. Toll in regard to the observance of the liquor laws and a letter to that effect is to be sent to Mrs. Toll.

Mrs. Charles H. Bird gave a review on "Obedience" by Harry Emerson Fosdick in his series of "Twelve Tests of Character." Roll call was answered with quotations. A committee consisting of Mrs. C. H. Baird, Mrs. Viereck and Mrs. Reichard was appointed to take charge of the printing of the quotation books. These will be ready for distribution sometime before Christmas.

Mrs. Guy Finney and Mrs. Plumb were visitors. They are planning to start a reading circle in the Grand View district. Meetings are to be held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month and all women of that district are invited to attend.

FALL FESTIVAL IN BURBANK
The Women's club of Burbank, beginning tonight, is putting on a fall festival which is a big affair and to which many artists of note will contribute. The "Bridal Ballet" in which Cecilia Mae Fischer of Burbank is the bride in association with about ten other beautiful dancers, is to be a feature of the program tonight. It will be directed by Mrs. Pearl Keller, instructor of the girls participating.

LEGION AUXILIARY COOKED FOOD SALE
The Glendale auxiliary of the American Legion is having a cooked food sale Saturday morning in the grocery at 634 East Broadway. It will begin at 9 a. m. and many home cooked dainties will be on sale.

Small Charles had accompanied his mother to church. Upon his return home his grandmother asked him if he could repeat the text. "Sure," answered Charles. "Consider the lilies of the field, they quarrel not, neither do they swim."

IMPORTANT GUEST

Hubby came home and found an argument going on. His wife was trying to give a bridge party. "What's the row?" he demanded. "One of the guests is threatening to walk out," explained his wife in a whisper. "I must conciliate her." "Conciliate nothing. Let her walk out."

"Can't be done, hubby. She'll walk out with six chairs and four tables I borrowed from her."

Louisville Courier-Journal.

The sleuth thought he knew the bootlegger and the bootlegger did know the sleuth.

"Here's ten dollars," said the sleuth. "Can you get me a quart of liquor?"

"Hold this shoebox for me," responded the suspected one, "and stand right here on this corner."

It looked easy to the sleuth. When the culprit came back with the goods there would be a quick pinch. But he never came back.

After standing on the corner for two hours the sleuth opened the shoebox.

There was the liquor.

VALLEY MORTGAGE & FINANCE CO.

A HOME COMPANY

Officered by Home Men of Well Known Ability

Authorized Capital Stock, $500,000

$250,000 Preferred

$250,000 Common

The preferred stock is particularly attractive because it must pay 8% dividends before common stock receives any profit.

The company invests only in secured paper, such as first mortgages, trust deeds and automobile lease contracts.

These are purchased at sufficient discount to yield much better than 8%.

Company has acquired the extensive general insurance business of the R. L. Kent Company, built up by our president, A. L. Baird, while connected with said company.

This very profitable branch requires little capital and belongs to our stockholders.

The officers, who will give practically all their time to the Company, have had extensive and successful experience in banking, real estate loans, appraisements and automobile finance.

The board of directors, A. L. Baird, president; Max L. Green, vice-president; J. F. Lilly, treasurer; T. C. Young and Dan W. Green, are making extensive investments in the company's shares, thus proving their faith.

Company offers its preferred shares (par value $100) at $100 each, and for a limited time will, without cost, give one share of common stock for each five shares of preferred stock purchased.

This is not a speculative or stock jobbing venture, but a solid, clean-cut business, successful from the start, dealing in securities of undoubted worth.

Low overhead, conservative management and a policy of "safety first."

Would be glad to talk this over with you, giving you all the details.

THE MISSING TOOTH

A young man anxious to qualify for the aviation service was rejected ostensibly by reason of a missing tooth. If he was otherwise a desirable candidate, the rejection, measured by the plain law of common sense, could not be deemed justifiable. There are few, if any, perfect physical specimens. Were perfection to be the standard of army and navy personnel, both arms of defense would disappear like dew before the sun.

There is no requirement that an aviator shall bite his opponent even in times of combat. Were such requirement in existence, the absence of a molar would not incapacitate the biter. The loss of a tooth is not necessarily indicative of weakness. Sometimes it is due to accident. Many a sturdy fighter of the ring has been observed to expel several teeth at a time while in action. The necessity may be annoying to him, but he keeps right on fighting.

In physical examinations there is more or less of the quality best described as buncombe, or abbreviated into "bunk." While recruiting for the war was in progress a California boy, whose favorite diversion for years had been that of hiking, and who could outwalk any who ever competed with him on the trails, was rejected by reason of flat feet, being assured that he could not endure the hardships of marching.

There are trifling defects in every human organism. They do not mean incapacity, have no appreciable bearing on health, and no relation to powers of endurance. A robust man, losing one molar, would not thereby lose his strength, his appetite, his ability to chew nor yet his wits.

AN ARGUMENT FOR HANGING

Recently a resident of Lodi committed a horrid murder. At least all the evidence points to this conclusion. Included in the evidence is the full confession of the accused, with a recital of details. He at first declined to make any defense, but later there were rumors that he intended to withdraw the admission of guilt, and make a fight for his life. This could not, in the circumstances, win public approval. The sincerity of the man at the time he admitted full responsibility for a capital crime is not questioned. The truth as he told it was in complete conformity with the truth as it already had been known.

The suggestion comes from legal sources that the heavy insurance of the prisoner would be payable to his widow should he have the mischance to be hanged according to his deserts. If this view is upheld the prisoner's fight for life would be ungalant and unkind. He would have to spend it in prison where it would be wasted. The widowhood of the woman named as beneficiary of the policies would be almost as absolute as though the assassin had gone to the gallows, and yet from it she could derive no benefit. Since the boon of his society must in any case be withheld, such consolation as might lie in financial independence would seem to be the smallest return decently possible now. In accord with this view, it is to be hoped that the prisoner may take the ultimate penalty without protest or resentment.

OKLAHOMA'S BEWILDERMENT

The predicament in which Oklahoma finds itself must remain puzzling to an observer far enough from the conflict to be unbiased. Such an observer is lost in wonderment. He is unable to formulate a verdict.

If the struggle is between organized government and the ku klux only one verdict could be possible. This would be that an organization utterly lawless, wholly inimical to the principles of the constitution, ought to be stamped out. On the other hand the opposition to the governor is so bitter and so widespread, that the mind refuses to accept the apparent condition that there are arrayed against him only the members of the sheeted prowlers of the night.

The situation is most unfortunate. Whatever the mass of the electorate may desire, nothing could be plainer than that on both sides of the controversy as it now stands, are arrayed forces distinctly for evil. If one aggregation seeks to stir up a religious war, the way to meet its onslaughts hardly could be construed as the rabble seems to construe it. They have the ballot in Oklahoma. At the polls is the place to settle every issue on which the prevailing turmoil is based.

Organs of the ku klux proclaim through the agency of large-faced type that they stand for righteousness. Such a stand must include regard for law; regard for the rights of every race and sect. It could not prove its sincerity by resort to cowardly assault, or by denying to any class of citizenship the full rights that belong to free men and women.

PRETENSE IN READING

Many pretend to enjoy the classics they never have read. More than one distinguished citizen who is interviewed is found with a copy of "his favorite author in his hand." This may be Homer, Epictetus, or any of the ancients. Frequently it is Shakespeare. Yet the chances are that the distinguished citizen has the most casual knowledge of these authors and as for real interest concerning them, none whatever.

The output of books now is so great that even the professional critic does not pretend to keep up with it. There are countless novels interesting to one particular class, never even heard of by readers whose tastes lead them into a different part of the literary pasture for their browsing. Let the average person look at a recent catalogue of fiction and he would be amazed at the number of apparently successful writers of whom he never had heard. He might be surprised also could he realize how little he had missed.

In one circle in which the "latest book" will be discussed, the volume in question will be one that never had found its way into some other circle equally intellectual, and never will. There are, in other words, books for every taste.

There are old standards known to be entirely respectable, and to these a lot of folk cling, not because of the value they discern, but by reason of the respectability. Newspaper writers often refer quite incidentally to writers of olden times just as though everybody ought to know all about them, the truth being that the journalists are aware of little but the names, and probably ran across these in the process of research concerning some topic not related to literature.

A man has no more use for a crying baby than a woman has for a crying man.

JUST BRAINS

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Many excellent people object to the free use of brains in the solution of troubled domestic problems on the score that intelligence is cold and that home problems should be handled white-hot from the emotional furnace much as steel sheets are handled. Warmth is the thing, not a solution of the vexed problem.

Yet no less an authority than James Harvey Robinson, the eminent psychologist, has declared that, to date, human intelligence has hardly had a show, and has further affirmed his faith that if given one it will soon remedy or greatly alleviate many forms of human discomfort and misery.

Here are a few cases where an application of brains might save the situations but for the fact that the parties in interest feel that intelligence and love can not exist side by side.

A woman of my acquaintance has long supported her mother a woman totally without inner resources and determined to develop none for fear she may be thrown back on them.

The daughter leaves home early in the morning, works hard all day, entertains her mother in the evenings and every week end takes her somewhere. As banal an arrangement for happiness and efficiency as well could be imagined.

She needs a change, this woman who supports her mother, she urgently requires the tonic of outside association, and everything in her cries out for an occasional week-end away from her mother.

Brains suggest that the mother occasionally be left to her own devices and certainly that she should not accompany the girl, who habitually sees her and nobody else, on every vacation she takes.

However, suggest ever so slight a deviation from the program, laid down by the mother in deference to tradition and her own selfish wishes, and you have a weeping and protesting female on your hands who deplores the "lack of love in the soul of her child" and threatens suicide if any deviation occurs in the habit of years.

Intelligence would let her weep, holding the health, efficiency and happiness of the bread winner of first importance; but brains must not be applied to an emotional situation. So the daughter is in a sanatorium where she is being made worse by the hovering and hysterical attentions of a mother from whose unending immanence she needs a vacation.

The second example is that of an overworked mother who felt that her children just could not be fed by anybody but her. Being young and active they were up, hungry and turbulent at five in the mornings and the mother was up to feed them. Everybody in the house was angry and disturbed until a relative with brains arrived for a visit.

She put the youngsters to bed an hour later and placed beside each little bed a charming lunch, very light, but attractively wrapped and calculated to amuse the kiddies. By the time they had discussed and eaten it after waking and were dressed by a nurse, it was breakfast time; the mother was rested and the little folks agreeable hungry instead of cross and ravenous.

Brains, just brains. The husband and wife problem, the parents and child problem, the brother and sister problem, each and all will yield to a liberal application of brains.

Most people know this but fear a charge of coldness if they handle domestic affairs with sanity. They prefer to sizzle in eternal hot water engendered by high friction to sitting comfortably under an electric fan run by modern intellectual methods. It is one of the popular delusions that this kind of conduct is moral, tender and kind.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Old Jack Poole is a newspaper reporter. You know the type. You've seen it a thousand times. Tall, slender, with eyeglasses on a chain, a trifle dyspeptic, very cynical and rather sour—cynicism and sourness are not identical—full of rabid opinions and the father of two more children than his salary stretches to.

"If I had my way," said Old Jack in the calm that follows the last edition, "I'd hang Jerry Rabold. No, hanging's too good for him. I'd—"

The kid said the City Editor wanted to see Jack. By and by Jack came back, blue with rage.

"I'm on that Rabold story," he bawled. "What do you know about that? And I told the Skipper, too, just what I thought. He said:

"Write what you find, Jack."

"I'll take the hide off that wart hog."

Next day Old Jack Poole wrote a story that was the perfection of straightforward narration. Every fact was copper-riveted and sewn through. Every statement would withstand acid. The inferences permitted were wholly favorable to Rabold. It served to restrain public opinion, at least. Perhaps to change it.

"That was a queer story for you to write, Jack," I said.

"I gotta write what I find, haven't I?" he yelled.

There's the story. There isn't a man I know so soaked in prejudice as Jack Poole. No one who more thoroughly revels in bias. But when he goes out on a story he writes what he finds. His mind works in compartments. He preserves his private hates for his private amusement but he never permits them to govern his professional action.

Most of us yawp our heads off—just as Jack does—about people and things we dislike. But we go on yawping without taking the trouble to find out whether the yawp is well founded.

The average man wouldn't last long enough as a newspaper reporter to sharpen a pencil if he reported as foolishly as he talks.

FEDERATION P.-T.A.

IN REGULAR MEETING

Hear Sewer Details, School Statistics; Give to Chest

Members of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teachers' associations unanimously adopted a motion that they as individuals do all in their power to put over the sewer bonds, at the regular meeting held on Wednesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. This action was taken following a talk given by Secretary Sanders on the importance of this serious question which will soon be up to the people of Glendale. Later Sam Davis, city councilman, arrived and announced that he and Mayor Robinson had just returned from Los Angeles with the contract signed by that city and O. K.'s by the city attorney, whereby Glendale will be permitted to connect up with the Los Angeles sewer at Sixth street and also providing for Glendale to pay its proportion of the expenses at the outfall plant.

In the absence of Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the federation, who was attending a meeting in honor of the state president in Los Angeles, the meeting was opened by Mrs. E. S. McKee. Mrs. A. H. Brown, parliamentarian, announced several new departments that have been added by the district and at the next federation meeting action will be to amend the constitution to include the departments of community life and better films.

A motion was adopted that the federation give $25 from the treasury for the work of the Glendale Welfare council. The matter of using funds in the scholarship fund for the purpose of assisting students in paying carfare and student body dues was brought up by Mrs. Cline, chairman of the scholarship fund. A motion carried that Mrs. Cline and Mrs. C. H. Whitney be appointed a committee to investigate and use their own discretion in the use of the fund.

Richardson D. White was present and told of the crowded conditions in Glendale schools as the result of the rapid growth of the city. He said "for the last four years the average increase in enrollment was between 23 and 24 per cent. Plans for this year were based on that percentage of increase. However, this year it turned out to be almost 30 per cent increase." George U. Moyse of the high school was also present and told of conditions there. He stated that the new high school buildings will be finished sometime in November. Los Angeles has arranged for the students who are already attending from Eagle Rock and the Atwater districts to continue at the new plant and payment will be made to Glendale by the Los Angeles board. Mr. Moyse also announced "Education Week" to be celebrated in November, the slogan for which will be "Visit the Schools."

Mrs. Moore arrived at that time from Los Angeles and announced the First District Conference to be held October 25 at the Baptist church on Flower street in Los Angeles, subjects for discussion to be "Child Labor," "Legislation and Parents' Reading Circle," the latter discussion to be conducted by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson of Glendale. She also announced that Mrs. Bradford, state president, is the guest today at Pasadena. The Pasadena Federation of P.-T. A. is to be hostess at the state convention in that city on May 20, 1924.

PRESBYTERIANS ARE TO RECEIVE NEW MEMBERS

The Sunday school building of the Glendale Presbyterian church has now been in use for the past two weeks. This evening members and friends of the congregation will gather there from 8 to 10 o'clock to receive the new members who were welcomed into the church on September 10th. This reception is in charge of the S to Z division of the membership and the chairman of the division is Mr. C. E. Stewart of 133 South Cedar street. Much interest is centering in this reception because of the large number of new members who were received and also because this is the first social function to be held in the new building.

Mrs. Katherine Sooy is the chairman of the reception committee and with her helpers will receive and introduce the new members. A quartet from the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Glendale will sing several selections at the beginning of the program. This quartet is made up of Dr. C. R. Lusby, Paul Butterfield, Frank Butterfield and Dr. P. O. Lucas. A violin and whistling duet will be given by the little Pittenger sisters. Miss Anita Fletcher will read selections which will be followed by an address of welcome to the new members by John Swearingin. This will be responded to by Mr. Philemon Bevis. During the evening Mr. O. W. Andresen will lead the audience in community singing. All members and friends of the congregation are cordially invited to be present.

Few men have the ability to combine business with pleasure.

SPARR HEIGHTS

Congratulates the City of Glendale and its Trustees on the successful termination of their negotiations for sewer connections with the City of Los Angeles. It was a difficult task admirably done.

Anticipating the happy day when Glendale's new sewer system will remove her from the provincial village and place her in the city class, the developers of Sparr Heights announce, that in Montecito Park and all future development, they will install sewer mains, laterals and connections to curbs, without assessment to buyers.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS VERY FINE ADDRESS

Miss Adams, Chief Counsel of Indian Betterment League, Speaker

The Kiwanis club luncheon yesterday had Russell B. Mullin as chairman of the day, and a good program was the result. However, he took very little credit to himself for it, as he stated all arrangements had been made by Ezra Christensen and the program had been turned over to him as Mr. Christensen could not be present.

The speaker of the day was Miss Adams, who is the chief counsel of the Indian's Welfare League, who spoke on the subject of "The Indian." Her work in defending poor Lo apparently has given her an intimate insight into the affairs of this vanishing race and her subject was beautifully treated.

As a foundation for her address

E. H. HARDING ILL SINCE LAST WEEK

Mr. E. H. Harding, the popular and well-known agent for the Los Angeles Times and Examiner, has been confined to the house since last week with a severe attack of neuritis.

Mr. Harding has had similar attacks in the past but not as severe as this one, however, and it is to be hoped that he will be able to be out in a few days. In the meantime Mrs. Harding is looking after his paper interests in a very efficient manner.

she said, "Suppose we look forward 1000 years and we see an oncoming horde of little yellow men who engage in battle with the people of this country and annihilate them, all but a small few. Just why this small number was spared cannot be told. Perhaps it was to learn some of their secrets, or for other reasons, in any event they were spared."

"Time passes on and then the few discover a precious metal in the bowels of the earth and they sell it to the yellow men and in time the few become possessed of great wealth. The yellow men confer and they decide that this should not be so, and they conspire, and they agree among themselves that they will go to the few and make great promises. They will promise protection and the choice of lands, anything in fact, to obtain the desired ends."

"The few unwittingly listen and their secrets and their art are taken away from them and no promise in return is kept. Starvation follows, and the race is a vanishing race, but need I go farther? I hope that this picture will never come true, again in world history. As it is it is the history of the American Indian."

Miss Adams stated that there was no institution in the county of Los Angeles to which an Indian could be legally admitted. No school, hospital or other institution would have them, and this condition is responsible, in many ways, for the present condition of the red men.

There are 336,000 Indians in the country today and it costs 4 1/2 million dollars for the Indian Department salaries alone, she stated, and the total cost of operating the department for 1927 was 35 million.

This total number of Indians is about one-half of the population of the city of Los Angeles, and the problem of taking care of them is not as great as the school problem in the city of New York and that problem is adjusted each year, she said, and yet through all these years the Indian problem has never had a proper adjustment.

Miss Adams stated that the time to adjust the matter was the next session of congress, and while she had no great love for the Indian she disliked to see this terrible stain on the Stars and Stripes, which was an emblem of liberty and justice for all.

The high school orchestra furnished three very fine numbers, all of which were much appreciated by all present.

It is well to make a good beginning—and it is also well to remember that the end is what determines everything.

VEHICLE LAW UNENFORCABLE SAYS GODWARD

States That Under Law Municipalities Have No Powers

The attorney for this city, Lester R. Godward, before the trustees at the meeting last Tuesday night made the very startling statement that the present motor vehicle act was conflicting, ambiguous and inoperative, so far as municipalities were concerned.

As the direct result of this statement Trustee Nielson made a motion that all proceedings for the improvement of Walnut avenue be immediately abandoned and it carried without a dissenting vote.

Mr. Godward's opinion was rendered because of the fact that in one clause the act states that cities shall have certain powers and in that clause refers to another clause wherein such powers shall be set forth. When the second clause is read it is found to contain no reference to cities whatever. It does, however, define the powers of county supervisors but makes no reference to cities. For this reason Mr. Godward seems to feel that the act is inoperative and so impressed the trustees that the Walnut avenue paving was abandoned.

This does not mean that no improvement work is to be done on that street this year. On the contrary proceedings were immediately instituted to pave the thoroughfare with three inch oil-tamp and this type of pavement will be rushed through to completion. Oil-tamp can be protected from all heavy traffic where, without an operative state law, such traffic cannot be prohibited from streets paved with the heavier paving. So Mr. Nielson's move was for the best interests of the people on that street.

THIRD ANNUAL DESERT PLAY

The third annual Desert Play will be given at Palm Springs on the afternoons of November 3 and 4. Mr. Garnet Holme, founder of the play, has decided upon Mary Austin's play, "Fire," for this year's production. It was with this play that the Desert Play was started. It proved so popular and received such favorable comment that it was decided to make it an annual event.

The play "Fire," is based on an old Indian legend of the discovery of the use of fire, by man.

The play is being staged by Jeffery Williams, a veteran actor and director of both stage and screen. He has selected an all-star professional cast from the various theaters and studios of Los Angeles and Hollywood, to play the many varied parts in this production.

The play is given in a natural theater at the foot of Mt. San Jacinto, and is located just a mile from Palm Springs and is on Indian land.

WEBB'S WONDER STORE IN GREAT FASHION DISPLAY

A very beautiful display of gowns and other women's wear of irreproachable costuming was presented Wednesday at the wonderful store of H. S. Webb on North Brand, together with a musical program by the Kelley Shrine orchestra and by two little pupils of the Pearl Keller school—Marie Louise Bragg, who executed a powder puff dance in solo, and Eleanor Marek who gave a patriotic dance. The same program was repeated in the evening. The models who accentuated the beauty of the garments they were permitted to display were Lyle Tayo, Mabel Armstrong, Katherine Sumner, Julia Mayle and Grace McQuaid.

So bewildering was the variety in the display, although it was limited to the actual stock of the store, it would be impossible to describe it in detail. It began with afternoon gowns for the most part of silk, polka twills, satin-faced cantons, charmeuse and plain satin in the leading colors trimmed with touches of bead and silk embroidery in bright, contrasting colors, following the long waisted, silhouette lines and with draped effects and side panels. There were also models in the coat styles and models with ripple skirt bottoms.

The coats were both trimmed and plain, many having fur decorated collars and cuffs of fur and the cloths represented included the popular Ormandale and Fashona developed in many shades.

Millinery was a distinctive feature of the showing, the hats fitting the costumes in perfect color harmonies for the most part in medium and small shapes in the wide range of color. Gold and silver were freely employed in their garniture and bright colored trimmings in paisley shades.

The sport skirts of brushed wool and the sweaters to match were especially well received by the critical and closely observant audience, and camel's hair skirts in plain and wrap-around styles plain and plaided in tan, gray and orange, with tan stitching, side ties and other embellishments.

All costumes were carefully matched as to shoes from the shoe department of the store in both sport and dress models, and with the dress shoes were worn the nude hose from the McCallum mills which have provided the last word in silk foot covering, and which are especially featured in that department in the Webb store.

Evening gowns, constituted the grand finale and might be called the sweets of the fashion feast. All were beautiful whether of black or the pastel shades that make evening costuming a dream of beauty. In their ornamentation no resource had been neglected. Silver beads, crystal beads, rhinestones, embroidery and lace were all employed to develop beautiful creations in long skirted, long waisted models, and a number of garments were purchased as soon as the show was over.

In the putting on of this affair which amounted to a function, H. S. Webb, the proprietor of the store, was ably seconded by his lieutenant and general manager, Mr. Ludwig, also by Mr. Hay, who has charge of the ready-to-wear department, Miss Hazel Pick, millinery, Mrs. Mary Baxter who presides over sports wear, and Mr. Brotherton of the shoe department.

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

'Mid a profusion of garden flowers many guests and a large membership attendance, the La Crescenta Woman's club celebrated the opening of the third club year, yesterday afternoon in the school auditorium. The president, Mrs. C. A. Hoskins, officiated, giving a short, but forcible talk on cooperation of club members, the plans for the coming club year and the building of the clubhouse. Mrs. Haskins announced a change in the program committee. The new members are Mrs. F. B. Pinkus, Mrs. Charles Reinhart, Mrs. Mary B. Darrow. The building committee for the club to be erected during the coming year include Mrs. Charles Turck, Mrs. C. J. Klatt, Mrs. A. W. Brown, Mrs. Seymour Thomas, Mrs. F. H. Anderson, Mrs. M. S. Collins, Mrs. A. Alken, Mrs. H. S. Bissell, Mrs. T. S. Minford, Mrs. C. E. Culberson and Mrs. E. N. Nettleton. Mrs. J. S. Erwin will take charge of the club basket for the coming year. Mrs. Charles Turck and Mrs. Viola Waddell made short talks on the state federation and the help derived from joining with other clubs, after which the members present unanimously voted to join the district federation. Mrs. H. Reynolds, Mrs. V. Waddell, Mrs. Charles Turck and Mrs. M. Howard were appointed a committee to add several amendments and revise the by-laws of the club. A committee appointed to make arrangements with Dr. Baumgardt for members to visit Clark's observatory, included Mrs. V. Waddell, Mrs. V. Hall and Mrs. S. B. Young. Thirteen new members were voted into the club at the close of the business session. Mrs. Collins, chairman of the entertainment committee announced a dance for Friday evening, October 19, at the school auditorium. Mrs. Charles Turck presided over the program hour and introduced Miss Doris Packer of Glendale, who delighted her audience with two recitations, "The Baseball Game," a screaming take-off on club women. Two violin solos were happy features of this program by Essie Rose Allen. Her "Meditation" from "Thais" by Massenet and "Oriental" by Cui, were beautifully rendered. Mrs. Allen was accompanied by Mrs. H. D. Topliff. During the social hour Mrs. Charles Reinhart and Mrs. C. J. Klatt presided.

Then they feebly drifted into quite decent society—like Lorrimer and Carnegie—with dress coats and white ties on, and their hair parted in the middle and down the back of the head, and brought over the ears in a bunch at each side, as was the English fashion in those days; and subscribed to Galignani's Messenger; and had themselves proposed and seconded for the Cercle Anglais in the Rue Saint-Nicolas, a circle of British philistines of the very deepest dye; and went to hear divine service on Sunday mornings in the Rue Marbeuf!

Indeed, by the end of the summer they had sunk into such depths of demoralization that they felt they must really have a change and decided on giving up the studio in the Place St. Anatole des Arts, and leaving Paris for good; and going to settle for the winter in Düsseldorf, which is a very pleasant place for English painters who do not wish to overwork themselves—as the Laird well knew, having spent a year there.

It ended in Taffy's going to Antwerp for the Kermesse, to paint the Flemish drunkard of our time just as he really is; and the Laird's going to Spain, so that he might study toreadors from the life.

I may as well state here that the Laird's toreador pictures, which had had quite a vogue in Scotland as long as he had been content to paint them in the Place St. Anatole des Arts, quite ceased to please (or sell) after he had been to Seville and Madrid; so he took to painting Roman cardinals and Neapolitan pufferi from the depths of his consciousness—and was so successful that he made up his mind he would never spoil his market by going to Italy!

So he went and painted his cardinals and his pufferi in Algiers, and Taffy joined him there, and painted Algerian Jews—just as they really are (and didn't sell them); and then they spent a year in Munich, and then a year in Düsseldorf, and a winter in Cairo, and so on.

And all this time Taffy, who took everything as grand serious—especially the claims and obligations of friendship—corresponded regularly with Little Billee, who wrote him long and amusing letters back again, and had plenty to say about his life in London—which was a series of triumphs, artistic and social—and you would have thought from his letters, modest though they were, that no happier young man, or more elate, was to be found anywhere in the world.

It was a good time in England, just then, for young artists of promise: a time of evolution, revolution, change, and development—of the founding of new schools and the crumbling away of old ones—a keen struggle for existence—a surviving of the fit—a preparation, let us hope, for the ultimate survival of the fittest.

But it is not with the art of Little Billee, nor with his fame as a painter, that we are chiefly concerned in this unpretending little tale, except in so far as they have some bearing on his character and his fate.

"I should like to know the detailed history of the Englishman's first love, and how he lost his innocence!"

"Ask him!"

"Ask him yourself!"

Thus Papelard and Bouchardy, on the morning of Little Billee's first appearance at Carrel's studio, in the Rue des Potirons St. Michel.

And that is the question the present scribe is doing his little best to answer.

A good looking, famous, well bred, and well dressed youth finds that London society opens its doors very readily; he hasn't long to knock; and it would be difficult to find a youth more fortunately situated, handsomer, more famous, better dressed or better bred, more seemingly happy and successful, with more attractive qualities and more condonable faults, than Little Billee, as Taffy and the Laird found him when they came to London after their four or five years in foreign parts—their Wanderjahr.

He had a fine studio and a handsome suite of rooms in Fitzroy Square. Beautiful specimens of his unfinished work, endless studies, hung on his studio walls. Everything else was as nice as it could be—the furniture, the bibelots, and bric-a-brac, the artistic foreign and Eastern knick-knacks and draperies and hangings and curtains and rugs—the semi-grand piano by Collard & Collard.

That immortal canvas, the "Moon-Dial" (just begun, and already commissioned by Moses Lyon, the famous picture dealer), lay on his easel.

No man worked harder and with teeth more clenched than Little Billee when he was at work—none rested or played more discreetly when it was time to rest or play.

The glass on his mantel-piece was full of cards of invitation, reminders, pretty mauve and pink and lilac scented notes; nor were coronets wanting on many of these hospitable little missives. He had quite overcome his fancied aversion for bloated dukes and lords and the rest (we all do sooner or later, if things go well with us); especially for their wives and sisters and daughters and female cousins; even their mothers and aunts. In point of fact, and in spite of his tender years, he was in some danger (for his art) of developing into that type so adored by sympathetic women who haven't got much to do: the friend, the tame cat, the platonic lover (with many loves)—the squire of dames, the trusty one, of whom husbands and brothers have no fear—the delicate, harmless dilettante of Eros—the dainty shepherd who dwells "dans le pays du tendre!"—and stops there.

Beautiful young women, who had been taught how to paint pretty little landscapes (with an ivy-matted ruin in the middle distance), talked technically of painting to him, de pair a pair, as though they were quite on the same artistic level, and didn't mind admitting it, in spite of the social gulf between.

Hideous old frumps (osseous or obese, yet with unduly bared neck, and shoulders that made him sick) patronized him and gave him good advice, and told him to emulate Mr. Buckner both in his genius and his manners—since Mr. Buckner was the only "gentleman" who ever painted for hire; and they rooms of Mr. Moses Lyon, the picture dealer in Upper Conduit Street—for Little Billee (I much grieve to say it of a hero of romance) was an excellent man of business. That infinitesimal dose of the good old Oriental blood kept him straight, and not only made him stick to his last through thick and thin, but also to those whose foot his last was found to match (for he couldn't or wouldn't alter his last).

He loved to make as much money as he could, that he might spend it royally in pretty gifts to his mother and sister, whom it was his pleasure to load in this way, and whose circumstances had been very much altered by his quick success. There was never a more generous son or brother than Little Billee of the clouded heart, that couldn't love any longer!

As a set-off to all these splendors, it was also his pleasure now and again to study London life at its lower end—the east end of all. Whitechapel, the Minorities, the Docks, Ratcliffe Highway, Rotherhithe, soon got to know him well, and he found much to interest him and much to like among their denizens, and made as many friends there among ship-carpenters, excisemen, longshoremen, jack-tars, and what not, as in Bayswater and Belgrave (or Bloomsbury).

Little Billee found it expedient, when he wanted rest and play, to seek them at the houses of those whose rest and play were like his own—little haunts in a seeming happy life-journey, full of toil and strain and endeavor; oases of sweet water and cooling shade, where the food was good and plentiful, though the tents might not be of cloth of gold; where the talk was of something more to his taste than court or sport or narrow party politics; the new beauty; the coming match of the season; the coming dual conversation to Rome; the last elopement in high life—the next! and where the music was that of the greatest music-makers that can be, who found rest and play in making better music for love than they ever made for hire—and were listened to as they should be, with understanding and religious silence, and all the fervent gratitude they deserved.

There were several such houses in London then—and are still—thank Heaven! And Little Billee had his little billet there—and there he was wont to drown himself in waves of lovely sound, or streams of clever talk, or rivers of sweet feminine adulation, seashore oceans—a somewhat relaxing bath!—and forget for a while his everlasting chronic plague of heart-insensibility, which no doctor could explain or cure, and to which he was becoming gradually resigned—as one does to deafness or blindness or locomotor ataxia—for it had lasted nearly five years! But now and again, during sleep, and in a blissful dream, the lost power of loving—or loving mother, sister, friend—would be restored to him; just as with a blind man who sometimes dreams he has recovered his sight; and the joy of it would wake him to the sad reality: till he got to know, even in his dream, that he was only dreaming, after all, whenever that priceless boon seemed to be his own once more—and did his utmost not to wake. And these were nights to be marked with a white stone, and remembered!

So he actually grew tired of the great before they had time to tire of him—incredible as it may seem, and against nature; and this saved him many a heart-burning; and he ceased to be seen at fashionable dinners or gatherings of any kind, except in one or two houses where he was especially liked and made welcome for his own sake; such as Lord Chiselhurst's in Piccadilly, where the "Moon-Dial" found a home for a few years, before going to its last home and final resting-place in the National Gallery (R. L. P.); or Baron Stoppenheim's in Cavendish Square, where many lovely little water-colors signed W. B. occupied places of honor on gorgeously gilded walls; or the gorgeously gilded bachelor promised him, in time, an equal success!

Here and there some sweet old darling specially enslaved him by her kindness, grace, knowledge of life, and tender womanly sympathy, like the dowager Lady Chiselhurst—or some sweet young one, like the lovely Duchess of Towers, by her beauty, wit, good humor, and sisterly interest in all he did, and who in some vague, distant manner constantly reminded him of Trilby, although she was such a great and fashionable lady!

But just such darlings, old or young, were to be found, with still higher ideals, in less exalted spheres; and were easier of access, with no impassable gulf between—spheres where there was no patronizing, nothing but deference and warm appreciation and delicate flattery, from men and women alike—and where the aged Venuses, whose prime was of the days of Waterloo, went with their historical remains duly shrouded, like ivy-mantled ruins (and in the middle distance).

GEO. W. ANDERSON SELLS MUCH IN SOUTH GLENDALE

George W. Anderson has sold close to $200,000 worth of Glendale property in the last sixty days. He says that never has the demand for South Glendale property been so keen as it is at present. Nine out of ten buyers want South Glendale business property, he says, and he believes that every piece of business property on So. Brand, Los Feliz, South Central and San Fernando road will double in the next year.

Glendale has all California looking at her at present and at the rate this city is growing it will not be long before Glendale has 100,000 population.

Mr. Anderson has moved from 117 South Brand to 125 West Broadway. He gives a list of some of the sales he has made recently in South Glendale as follows:

Fifty feet on South Brand near Cypress, from Mr. Tufts to C. H. Heu De Bourck, consideration, $9,000; fifty feet on Los Feliz road, near Central, from George W. Anderson to Dr. A. H. Parks, $7,500; forty-two feet on Spangler, consideration, approximately $9,500; fifty feet on Central near Los Feliz, from George W. Anderson to R. W. Poindexter, consideration, $7,500; fifty feet on South Brand from C. R. Heu De Bourck to Mr. Leighton, consideration, $11,000; forty feet on Los Feliz, near San Fernando road, from Geo. W. Anderson, to Harvey E. Hoar, consideration, $10,000; fifty feet on South Brand near Cypress, from Hal Davenport to W. P. Mead, consideration, $12,500; fifty feet on Los Feliz near San Fernando, from Geo. W. Anderson to C. H. Heu De Bourck, approximately, $11,000; corner of Central and Los Feliz, from Joseph McPeeters to Geo. W. Anderson, consideration, $28,000; eighty-six feet on Central near Park, from Mr. Julian to W. J. Maul, consideration, $14,000; 145 feet on Central from Mr. McCormick to George W. Anderson, consideration, $15,500; 50 feet on Central, from Geo. W. Anderson to H. Massey, consideration, $7,000.

Just Chatter

By JOHN J. MULLIGAN

He wasn't what you'd call a woman hater or anything like that, but was simply one of those fellows we've all met, who are all wrapped up in their books and pipes and dreams. Of course he'd go around to parties or picnics or the movies with girls occasionally, but generally speaking he seemed to shy clear of them, apparently deriving more pleasure and contentment from dwelling in his land of solitude and dreams. But anyway he was a right good fellow and we were friends back east until the war came along and parted us. And so the years rolled by and our roads led different ways and I lost track of him until the other day when Fate, shaking us both in the dice box of chance, threw us together again.

He looked ten years younger though extremely nervous and no sooner had we met then he pushed me into a waiting machine and away we drove through many congested streets to a great quiet building outside the city. In we went and were directed to wait outside a certain room. We waited and waited and my friend, unable to control himself, fussed and fumed and fidgeted until he gave me the woolies.

Finally after what seemed an age to him the door opened and out came a trim girl all in white, accompanied by a kindly-faced elderly man. Slapping my friend's back and shaking his hand the doctor spoke the magic word—twins. And you should have seen the happiness on that man's face. In his joy and excitement he kissed the nurse and poked the doctor's ribs and told us all he was the happiest man in the world, and by golly he looked it. As we parted away he grinned like a Cheshire cat and said he'd have to hurry home as his six other kids were waiting for supper. His six other kids! Jimmy crickets!! You can never figure these quiet chaps a-tall!

Little Edna—"My uncle has malaria fever. I wonder what causes people to have that kind of fever?"

Little Emma—"Don't you know?"

Little Edna—"No. Do you?"

Little Emma—"Yes, Marliaria, of course."

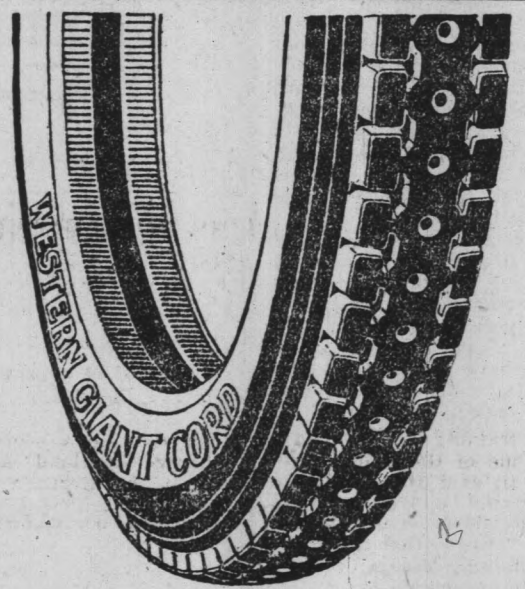

Change your opinions once in a while if you would improve them.

GOLD MEDALS FOR GLENDALE AT BIG POULTRY SHOW

Again to the front! Glendale is carrying off a good share of the gold medals being awarded at the bantam show in connection with the Riverside Fair now being held. Of the twelve birds entered by W. M. Clarke of 1141 Melrose avenue, Glendale, eleven premiums were received. He has entered a string of black breasted red game bantams and also red pyle bantams.

This bantam show is considered the national meeting of the bantams, according to Mr. Clarke. There are entries from all over the United States, a total number of 1100, which is by far the largest number of entries at any show known in the world and surpasses anything ever attempted before. One female black breasted red game bantam pullet entered by Mr. Clarke, and which was raised in Glendale, won more than $30 in gold medals and received the gold medal awarded by the American Bantam association for the best female in her class.

GIANTS FAVORED TO COP SECOND ENCOUNTER

Casey Stengel Is Hero of First World's Series Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Swinging his bat in that fabled setting of the diamond—the ninth inning, with the score tied, two out, and the count, "two and three"—Casey Stengel blasted his way into baseball's Hall of Fame yesterday with a home-run drive that gave the New York Giants a spectacular victory over the Yankees, 5 to 4, in the opening clash of the 1923 world's series.

That mighty and heroic blow by Stengel, who came back after being relegated to baseball's scrap heap not long ago, ended a gripping, pulse-throbbing drama, a thrilling battle in which the wits, decisive punch and brilliant defense of the Giants triumphed over the courage, brawn and fighting spirit of the Yankees.

AMERICAN LEGION BASKETBALL TEAM BEGINS PRACTICE

According to present indications the Glendale Post of the American Legion is going to have a crack-jack basketball team this year. Several veterans of the last year's team, which took second place in the Southern California Legion league, are out again this season, and a number of new players have signified their intentions of going out.

First practice was held Monday evening at the High school gymnasium. A number of men reported for the initial workout. Among them were Bunker Watt, Reggert, Goodman, Hibbert, Solano, and Wheelon. General limbering up exercises and general practice was in order.

Hereafter practice will be held twice weekly, Monday and Wednesday night, at the High school gymnasium. The next practice is Monday, October 15. All Legion men who are interested in Basketball should be on hand.

RECREATION BODY NOW MEETING IN SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

Community athletics and recreation is the chief matter of business before the tenth National Recreation Congress, now being held in Springfield, Ill. The Congress was opened Monday with discussion of athletics for girls and women, and an exhibition of gymnasium work.

Ex-Governor Brumbaugh is presiding at the sessions, which will terminate tomorrow. Delegates from all over the United States are in attendance, and are contributing to the work of the Congress the ideas of their various sections. It is anticipated that before adjournment a definite policy in regard to community athletics will be formulated.

Umpires, Evans at plate; O'Day at first base; Nallin at second base; Hart at third base. Time of game, 2 hours, 4 minutes.

PLAN TO CHANGE PITCHING RULES IS PREDICTION

Freak Deliveries May Be Reinstated to Curb Excess Slugging

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (United Press).—When the major league club owners meet this winter to seek remedies for any defects that might have been apparent in the "national pastime" during the past season, it is probable that some relief for pitchers may be considered.

It is a generally accepted fact that the restrictions placed upon pitchers by the rules enacted several years back to curb illegal deliveries have stopped trick pitching and practically every other kind of pitching.

The bars that were raised against the use of any foreign substance on the ball and the introduction of the rabbit-ball were designed primarily to increase hitting. The plans, if they were such, surely succeeded and now the major league owners find themselves in a place where they feel they should do something to curb the excess of slugging.

From the statements of many of the players' measures to make slugging less of a common art were tried out during the past season when some less lively balls were put in play. While hitting was no doubt reduced, the difficulties of the players were increased because they never knew how to play the ball.

The National League, it is understood, is willing to amend the present pitching rules to permit the use of resin on the fingers to allow pitchers to get a better grip on the ball. It was suggested that abuses of the privilege could be avoided by having the umpires place a small sack of resin near the pitcher's box and see that only a small amount would be applied occasionally to the finger tips.

Several National League club owners have expressed their approval of this suggestion as they agree that pitchers have imposed upon them too much of a handicap and that the resultant hitting is hurting the game. Soon after the present rules became effective it was realized that the obligation of handling a brand

SPORT-O-GRAMS

By FRANCIS WILKERSON READ

Glendale is on the baseball map at last! With the construction of a ball park with a seating capacity of 2000 spectators to begin at once, the city is assured of a team in the new "Triple A" league, and may become the training quarters of a big league baseball club this spring. It is known that several major league teams are seeking Southern California parks for the spring training season, and the Seattle Club of the Pacific Coast League has asked the Chamber of Commerce for information in regard to Glendale as a training site.

In our opinion the new ball park will be a decided benefit to the city. A team in the new circuit will help to advertise Glendale. The loop will have some mighty fast players, and several high caliber diamond artists have been signed up for the local team. The primary object of the league is to develop players for professional baseball, and thus the local fans will have a chance to see the potential stars before they come into their full blaze of glory, and later to be able to say "I knew him when he played on the Glendale team in the Winter League."

Then there is the advantage to be secured by a big league team training here. A baseball team carries with it early in the season a great many men, a number of them "rookies" getting their first taste of professional baseball. The team makes its home at the training city for several weeks, and for that time becomes a part of the community. Think what an immense asset such a thing would be to the local merchants! A big league team training here would spread the name of Glendale as a baseball city all over the country.

Mr. Kerwin, who is erecting the park and entering the local team, deserves the support of all of Glendale in his undertaking.

New York has not the monopoly on this city series stuff, although the Giants and Yankees seem to be in the limelight right now. No new ball without violating the rules was decreasing the effectiveness of pitchers and the umpires were instructed to remove as much gloss as possible from the balls before they were put in play.

The only effective way of doing this was to wet the surface of the ball and this, too, had its bad features, because the cover was softened and made the ball more easily blemished and scarred by striking the screen, the earth or any part of the stands.

TICKETS FOR BIG CAL.-U. S. C. GAME ON SALE TODAY

The public sale of tickets for the California-U. S. C. game, to be played November 10 at the Los Angeles Coliseum, will start today. Graduate Manager Gwynne Wilson of the Trojan institution yesterday sent 22,000 choice seats to the five sporting goods stores. These will be sold to the public and represent the best of the remaining seats. There are no box seats for sale, as the allotment is oversubscribed. San Francisco has requested 15,000 seats.

RUSH COMPLETION OF NEW SOUTHERN CAL. JOCKEY CLUB

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—The first race of the new Southern California Jockey club is underway.

It is the race of the contractors against time. Hundreds of men and mules are toiling on the 140 acre tracksite near Culver City in an effort to have the track in readiness by December 15, the new tentative opening date. The opening was originally fixed for December 1. It was postponed on information from the contractors who declared they could not possibly complete the work until the middle of December.

The ground breaking exercises at the track were impressive. Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion who earned money at the rate of $100,000 a minute in his fight with Firpo was chief shovel wielder. He was aided by King Baggot, noted motion picture star. Jack Kearns, manager of the champion and the man whose financial shrewdness has made the championship worth more than all other heavyweight championships of all time put together is one of the chief individual stockholders, being represented by $50,000.

Dick Ferris, who organized the club said the response from horse men all over the United States has been extremely gratifying. Practically all of the western racing men have signified their intention of entering their strings and many of the eastern owners will participate as the track will give them opportunity to keep their horses working when the eastern courses are closed.

It is possible that the new park will be used by professional teams this spring as training quarters. It is common knowledge that several major league teams are desirous of locating a site in Southern California for the training period. The Seattle Pacific Coast League team has asked the Chamber of Commerce for information regarding the possibility of securing spring quarters here, and the inquiry has been turned over to the promoters of the park.

Plans to secure permanent quarters are now being formulated by the Glendale Athletic club, according to Charles Brice, president of the organization. Following the acquisition of quarters and equipment a drive will be opened to increase the membership of the club, which is now limited to fifty members.

Numerous activities in the athletic line are sponsored by the club. The baseball team, which is a member of the Southern California Baseball Managers' association, plays every Sunday at Happyland Park, Verdugo Woodlands. At present it has an average of about 800.

The boxing bouts that will be staged next Tuesday in Hahn's auditorium are being put on by the club. Les Marston, local promoter, is managing the affair. A basketball team of first class caliber is being recruited, and will seek membership in one of the best leagues in these parts.

GLENDALE GETS FIRST CLASS BASEBALL PARK, TEAM IN WINTER LEAGUE

Work Will Start Immediately on Park to Seat 2,000 Fans; Players of Note Signed to Play on Glendale Triple A Team

By FRANCIS W. READ

Glendale is to have a first-class baseball park and a team in the new "Triple A" winter league. A lease was signed this morning between Frank Kerwin of the B. H. Dyer company of Los Angeles and Roy Johnston of this city for the property owned by Mr. Johnson on South San Fernando road between Park and Palmer. Following the signing of the lease, Mr. Kerwin announced that he will construct a baseball park with a seating capacity for 2000 spectators on the property. Work will start immediately, and the park will be completed by November first. Associated with Mr. Kerwin in the proposition is Mr. Leischner of Los Angeles.

That Mr. Kerwin means business is evidenced by the fact that he has already entered a team for Glendale in the "Triple A" League, which was formed a short time ago. The new park will be the home of the local entry, which will play every Sunday, commencing November 4. The season will last for fourteen weeks. In the new league are teams representing Ventura, Anaheim, San Pedro, Wilmington, the Shell Oil Co. of Long Beach and the Union Tool Co. of Los Angeles. The Glendale entry completes the circuit.

Coincident with the announcement of the Glendale entry, it was disclosed that players of note in the baseball world have been signed for the local team. Mike Donlin, former New York Giant, will be the manager. "Babe" Herman of this city, more familiarly known as "Lefty," formerly of the Glendale High school nine, and at present owned by the Boston Red Sox, will appear in a Glendale uniform this winter. Mickey O'Brien, former catcher of the Philadelphia National League team, has been secured for the local club. Slim Harris and Walt Heidler, well known local diamond artists, will also play for Glendale.

It is possible that the new park will be used by professional teams this spring as training quarters. It is common knowledge that several major league teams are desirous of locating a site in Southern California for the training period. The Seattle Pacific Coast League team has asked the Chamber of Commerce for information regarding the possibility of securing spring quarters here, and the inquiry has been turned over to the promoters of the park.

COLORADO ST. BOOMING

Interest in Colorado street improvements seem to be the paramount thing in the minds of the property holders on that street, as another call has been issued for a meeting to take place in the council chambers at the city hall where reports will be made by the special committees appointed at the last meeting held two weeks ago. Several buildings that have to be set back, has already been arranged for, and there prevails a unity of purpose along the entire street. The meeting is called for tomorrow night and all property owners requested to be present, as J. M. Boland, the president, reports that very important business will come up for discussion.

BEGINNING TOMORROW! FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY!

Yes, it's going to be popular in Glendale to know Zaza—TALK Zaza. For "Zaza" is glorious Gloria's most elaborate production, and, incidentally, it's the ONLY film that ever ran two weeks at Grauman's Metropolitan! You'll know why when you see it!

GLORIA SWANSON

In her newest Paramount extravaganza

"ZAZA"

And such a Zaza! Never have you seen Gloria Swanson like this. With the beauty, temperament, the fire, the humor, the heart-stirring appeal, the marvelous characterization that makes the real genius. It's truly a wonderful picture!

New Liquid Dissolves Teeth Stains

Whitens Dull Yellowish Teeth in 3 Minutes—Entirely Safe

Never before has it been so easy to acquire clear flashing white teeth! For scientists have discovered a new harmless liquid which dissolves teeth stains instantly, giving even the dulled teeth a charming new whiteness and lustre.

This new liquid is called Bleachodent. It is absolutely safe in every way—for it simply curdles or loosens the staining substances on the teeth so that they may be instantly removed by a tooth brush. It cannot affect the enamel in any way.

No matter how dark, stained or dingy your teeth may be you will be astonished at the results brought by the very first application of Bleachodent. Tobacco and other stains disappear almost like magic. If you want sparkling, white, pearly teeth—like the kind everyone admires—get Bleachodent today. Money instantly refunded if not delighted with results. Costs only a few cents for full size bottle, lasting many weeks, at all good stores, such as: A. G. Spohns Drug Co.

FIVE VILLAINS IN "RED LIGHTS" WITH GORILLA HIMSELF

Is this to be the year of the villains in motion pictures? From all indications the wicked men of the screen are to have their day, as well as the wicked women.

Probably the greatest aggregation of players of villainous parts that has been recently assembled for a picture is included in the cast selected for the Goldwyn production, "Red Lights," which is coming to the Gateway Theater today. The collection of "heavies," or people who must impersonate the bad characters of the play, is made up of the best "bad actors" of the screen. Jean Hersholt, Frank Elliot, Jean Hersholt, Charles Murphy and last but not least a gorilla, comprise the notable gathering of actors of vicious roles who perform in the Goldwyn feature.

Dagmar Godowsky, whose "heavy" types on the screen savor of the "designing lady," is ideally cast in the role of Roxie. Frank Elliot, a master of suave villainy, plays the part of Kirk Allen. Jean Hersholt is the half crazed Ezra, a scientist.

Charles B. Murphy as the "henchman," is placed in a part very similar to those he has played before on the screen. And the gorilla—well, he is a consistent "heavy."

PETITE DORIS MAY IS NEWCOMER ON WILLIAM FOX LOT

In Doris May, a newcomer makes her appearance on the Fox lot. She was first engaged to play opposite William Farnum in his latest production, "The Gunfighter," made under the direction of the best known supervisor of western films, Lynn Reynolds.

Miss May needs no lengthy introduction to fans. Only recently she starred in a series of productions which scored successfully all over the country. She is admirable as the foil of William Farnum. Only five feet two inches in height and weighing one hundred and seventy pounds, Doris has golden hair and deep-set, mysterious brown eyes that somehow remind one of a fawn darting through an autumnal forest.

Further increasing her value in Farnum productions, she is an extraordinarily skilled on o' doors woman, excelling in horsemanship, target-shooting, swimming, dancing and boating.

She takes pride in the fact that she once doubled for Mary Pickford.

"The Gunfighter" opens today at the Glendale Theater.

ALL THE CHILDREN CAN HAVE PART IN CIRCUS

All the children of Glendale, Burbank and Eagle Rock will have an opportunity to take part in the big Humpty Dumpty circus to be given in Glendale on October 19 and 20. There are plenty of positions still open for every child, boy or girl, who wants to have the time of his or her young life by taking an active part in the big show. And don't forget! Everyone who takes part in the circus gets in on the big circus banquet right after the show.

The elephants are eating a ton of hay a day and their keepers are massaging their ears so that they can flop them in seven different directions at one time. The queerest, most intelligent monkeys in captivity are developing a ravenous appetite for peanuts from practicing tak spins from the roofs of their gilded cages. Yes, we have some ostriches.

The pin-headed pup is thriving on his daily ration of floorice carpet tacks and the swallow-tailed goutus is digesting his rear feathers every morning for breakfast. You will laugh until you can't stand up.

Now every child who wants to get in on the biggest feast of fun they will ever have, just come around to the Circus Headquarters next to the Daily Press on Brand boulevard and Mr. Law, the Circus Manager, will give you all the interesting details.

"DREAMLAND" IN FIRST SHOWING LAST EVENING

When one considers the great amount of work that must be done to train a group of over 300 people for a production, using local talent entirely, the first night's performance of "A Night in Dreamland" was a most creditable performance. There were over 400 people in attendance, who enjoyed the very clever ideas incorporated in this musical fantasy, which will be given again tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium. The proceeds will be for the benefit of St. Mark's Guild of the Episcopal church.

The first part of "A Night in Dreamland" was given by the little folks, who, attired in "nighties" and pajamas and carrying pillows and lighted candles, marched down the aisles, put down their pillows and went to sleep. The dreamland kiddies were school children of the kindergarten, first, second and third grades. School girls of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades acted as nursemaids. Dream girls attired in pajamas next appeared on the stage and sang "Hush, Here Comes the Dream Man." After the children had passed in review on the stage there appeared the dancing clowns, boys from the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

The stage setting for part two was very beautiful, with eucalyptus trees and flowers forming the background for a garden party, where the various guests contributed to the festivity with songs and dance numbers. This was completed with a patric finale, most impressive of which was the toast to peace, when a white dove was released from a silver loving cup.

Part three of the program was one of the most enjoyable bits of the entertainment. Specialty No. 1 was entitled "Fun at the Movies," first showing the exterior and then the interior of a motion picture show, showing in pantomime the impressions and expressions of a movie audience.

Specialty No. 2 was entitled "Here Comes the Bride," with the wedding march and dance of the brides and grooms. Specialty No. 3 was "In the Temple of Buddha," showing the interior of the temple. Specialty No. 4 was Mme. Brusk-Hollenback, in group of songs. "In Glendale's Rose Garden" completed the program.

With the added experience of the first night's performance, tonight's show will undoubtedly show a greater team work between the singers and the musicians, which will add considerably to the smoothness of the action.

NEW LAW FIRM

W. H. Springfield, Gates & Randles is the name of a new law firm just established at 402 Lawson building. It is a branch of the Gates & Randles firm of 418 Bank of Italy building, Los Angeles, with Mr. Springfield as resident representative. Mr. Springfield came here from Woodward, Okla., where he was a practicing attorney for a number of years. Glendale cordially welcomes him.

FIXING HIS STATUS

A new married couple were entertaining their friends. The rudeness of one of the guests made him objectionable to the rest of the company. His conduct was tolerated for some time, until at the table he held up on his fork a piece of meat which had been served him and in a vein of intended humor asked: "Is this pig?" To which end of the fork do you refer?" asked a quiet-looking man sitting at the other end of the table. He moved to a new neighborhood—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

HOPE

When the Summer flowers are blooming,
Though I know that time is dooming
Them to death I keep perfuming
All my memory with them.
And I beg of you to hear me,
In the winter time they cheer me
And each one seems nodding near me
On its thorn encrusted stem.

When the sun is brightly shining
I store up some silver lining
That I may not be repining
If it's dark another day.
And when joy's fleet hours are tripping
And the sweets of pleasure dripping,
In the intervals of sipping
I just hide a bit away.

So with verse that's well appointed,
And of meter word—anoointed,
And a rhyme that's triple jointed,
As I think you will agree,
Let me bid you cease your fretting,
Find new pleasure in forgetting,
And before the sun is setting
Seek some happiness with me.

Think the sun is brightly gleaming,
Think the hours with joy are teeming,
There is always time for dreaming
Dreams of rare and rosy hues;
Be not ever cynic bitter,
And be never once a quitter,
For the birds without there twitter
In their branches: "What's the use?"

"What would your father do if I told him I wanted to marry you?" asked the young man.
"He'd refer the matter to me," promptly replied the girl.
"And what would you do?" he said, hopefully.
"I'd refer the matter to the young man who proposed to me and was accepted while you were trying to make up your mind," Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.
